on Swinford bridge

The real cost is far higher than 5p

waste of time

An average motorist waits to pay the toll for 6½ hours every month. With 10,000 vehicles using the bridge every day, that's a lot of wasted time.

waste of fuel

1000s of vehicles to queue with their engines idling: an needless waste of fuel. There's an economic crisis and we can't afford to waste any more fuel and money.

needless pollution

All those engines idling produce clouds of poisonous, choking emissions for no good reason.

unfair

We've already paid our road tax. Why should bridge-users pay on average £25 more a year?

history

In the 21st century, why are we still held to ransom by 18th century transport laws? Why is a bridge on a busy route is still privately owned? How is that not 'highway robbery'? Repeal that silly 250-year-old Act of Parliament! It's out of date.

Bridge users have run out of patience. It's time for Oxfordshire County Council to scrap the toll.
